Students are given assignments, quizzes and tests from time to time. They are encouraged to actively participate in classrooms. Colleges require students to maintain a certain level of attendance to ensure they are keeping up with the course material. Written exams are conducted. This helps the students prepare for the external exam as well as get feedback on the mistakes that they can improve on from the faculty. The weightage given to each of these methods can vary depending on the course and the college's policies. It is important for students to understand the specific requirements and grading criteria for each course in order to perform well in internal assessments.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

It's a great initiative to ensure that all the institute, faculty, and students are aware of the learning outcomes expected from the programs offered by the institution. Clear and concise program and course outcomes can play a crucial role in guiding the teaching and learning strategies, as well as in measuring the success of a program. Since every institution has its own unique objectives and requirements, it would be best to consult with the relevant subject matter experts in your institution to develop program and course outcomes that align with your institution's goals and objectives. 2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

The attainment of program outcomes and course outcomes is typically evaluated by educational institutes to assess the effectiveness of their educational programs. This evaluation process is usually done through a combination of formative and summative assessments, such as exams, projects, assignments, and presentations. In our institute, program outcomes are also evaluated, which helps the institute, faculty, and students as well. The institute gets a detailed report, with the help of which they can process out rules and regulations that can enhance results. Faculty and students also get an idea of what points they should work on more to enhance their results.

The assessment of program outcomes is usually done at a higher level than the assessment of course outcomes. Program outcomes are typically broader and more comprehensive statements that describe the knowledge, skills, and abilities that students are expected to acquire upon completing a particular degree program. Course outcomes, on the other hand, are more specific and describe the learning objectives of individual courses. By evaluating the attainment of program and course outcomes, educational institutes can identify areas where improvements are needed and make necessary adjustments to their programs.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

- Despite an acute shortage of staff, the Institution continues to fulfil its primary purpose, which is to impart holistic education to its students, the number of whom continue to be near capacity every year. The teachers put in extra time and energy to complete courses, conduct all manner of activities, take students for field trips, conduct awareness programs and mentor those in need. There are talks, seminars, workshops and career counseling activities, all with a teacher strength of less than thirty five percent. The Institution has not lost sight of its Vision and Mission, and the staff, both teaching and non-teaching (which too is less than optimum in number) give their best to uphold the values that MKP stands for.

7.3.2 - Plan of action for the next academic year

The IQAC ( Internal College Level) Committee of College held several meetings, got the College Website made and uploaded the AQARs of four previous years i.e., 2018-19, 2019-20, 2020-21 and 2021-22, on 31st July 2023.

As this Internal IQAC was not according to the latest guidelines from the NAAC, it did not have members from local society and stakeholders etc. Therefore no such meeting was held nor any future action plan was formulated, except that the college committed itself to submit AQARs regularly on time.
